Reveals an ancient code embedded in the Mesopotamian belief system which conceptualized the astral sky as the “heavens,” and its constellations and planets as deities inhabiting this divine realm

While researching celestial mythology at Brigham Young University, John McHugh stumbled upon the arcane code that is the template for the legends and miracles in all Mesopotamian, Greek, Roman, Jewish, Christian, and Islamic scriptures.

This code was embedded in the archaic Mesopotamian belief system that conceptualized the astral sky as the “heavens,” and its constellations and planets as deities inhabiting this divine realm. Celestial tableaux were understood as historical scenes that had once taken place on earth. Mesopotamian astronomers were regarded as magicians, the magi, whose task was to interpret and elaborate secretly on this “Heavenly Writing”—the literal writing of the gods. The Celestial Code of Scripture is the first book to present and explain this secret Mesopotamian cipher.

John McHugh is a licensed archaeologist with a dual-emphasis Master's degree in Near Eastern and Native American Archaeology from Brigham Young University. During his studies, he developed an expertise in archaeoastronomy, and acquired reading knowledge of Sumerian, Akkadian, Biblical Hebrew, Greek, Aramaic, and Arabic.

McHugh works as a staff archaeologist for the Utah Rock Art Research Association and Smith Archaeological Conservancy. He was mentored by archaeoastronomers Von Del Chamberlain and Alexander Gurshtein.

THE RELIGION OF MAN

International Edition

Foreword by Jon M. Sweeney

£12.99 UK / $16.95 US

Paperback 978-1-948626-55-2

6x9/260 pages

Nobel Laureate Rabindranath Tagore's lectures on religion given at Oxford toward the end of his life, edited by Tagore himself.

The Religion of Man (1931) is a compilation of lectures by Rabindranath Tagore, edited by him and drawn largely from his Hibbert Lectures given at Oxford University in May 1930. A Brahmo playwright and poet of global renown, Tagore deals with the universal themes of God, divine experience, illumination, and spirituality. This new Monkfish edition combines the British and English editions, includes a brief conversation between Tagore and Albert Einstein titled "Notes on the Nature of Reality," and a new foreword by Jon Sweeney.

"His estimates of western civilization are searching and some of them written in acid...one reads much between the lines—but Tagore recognizes the true strength of the west and the faults of the east. The lectures are actually a superb and haunting criticism and evaluation of life from the viewpoint of an immemorial philosophy by a wise man." —Christian Century

"This is a book for everyone: a book whose human interest and pervading charm assure it a wide appeal and lasting value. It is not a philosophical work, as its author repeatedly warns us; in fact, its one semi-philosophical chapter (the first) may well be omitted. Its value is religious and poetical; like the essays of Emerson, it is primarily a document of the spiritual life." —Journal of Religion

Rabindranath Tagore (1861–1941) was a Bengali poet, writer, composer, philosopher, and painter. In 1913, he became the first non-European to win the Nobel Prize in Literature.

WHEN YOU'RE FALLING, DIVE

Lessons in the Art of Living

Mark Matousek

£12.99 UK / $16.99 US

Paperback 978-1-948626-57-6

6x9/320 pages

eBook available

Why do some people blossom through adversity while others fall apart?

Author Mark Matousek examines this phenomenon by seeking advice from well-known survivors like Joan Didion and Isabel Allende and experts like Jon Kabat-Zinn to show how disasters can be used to awaken and transform us.

From a Sudanese boy slave kidnapped at age seven to a Tibetan nun imprisoned by Chinese militia, Matousek sifts through extraordinary testimonies and recent breakthroughs in neuroscience to demonstrate how we are hardwired to evolve and adapt when faced with the impossible.

"Journalist and memoirist Matousek follows his 1996 memoir, Sex Death Enlightenment, with an exploration of viriditas, the phenomenon of drawing passion, beauty, and wisdom from unlikely sources. AIDS sets the stage for the author's inquiry into the resiliency some people display when faced with tragedy and trauma. Each chapter is an anecdote, or parable, about a person's surviving." —Library Journal

"After receiving a diagnosis of HIV and, several years later, the equally upending news that after all, he would probably not die of it, Mark Matousek discovered something about riding a spiritual crisis. In this new guidebook to keeping the psyche intact while being spun on life's roulette wheel, he talks to survivors...as well as experts in brain neuroplasticity and psychological resilience. Through their stories, strategies emerge about how to not only regain equilibrium after a serious hardship but also manage the free floating 'intuition of hidden yet imminent danger' that afflicts many of us even in the absence of major trauma." —O Magazine

Mark Matousek is the award-winning author of seven books, including Sex Death Enlightenment: A True Story. His articles have appeared in The New Yorker and O: The Oprah Magazine.

6x9/268 pages

“Mark Matousek takes you everywhere his title promises—and then some. Sex Death Enlightenment is the most gripping and elegantly written memoir I’ve read in ages. It tugged me onward like the best suspense novel, though I couldn’t help lingering time and again to savor its wisdom.” —ARMISTEAD MAUPIN, AUTHOR OF Tales of the City

“As a prized writer and editor at Andy Warhol’s Interview magazine in the mid-’80s, Matousek hobnobbed with celebrities. But after a few years he began to feel oppressed by the shallow, glittery milieu.... The chief distinction of Matousek’s spiritual journey is the harrowing background against which it is set: The traumas of his childhood and the surreal sufferings of his friends with AIDS...utterly down to earth, even inspiring.”
—Kirkus Reviews

“It’s hard to know when you’re having a breakdown in New York City. The symptoms of living here, succeeding here, and losing your mind here are almost identical.” So begins Matousek’s 1996 breakout memoir about leaving a fast-track publishing life (working for pop artist Andy Warhol at Interview Magazine) and hitting the dharma trail in search of a meaningful life and spiritual wisdom. Hailed by Publisher’s Weekly as “brave, beautiful, and brilliantly observed,” Sex Death Enlightenment became an international best seller (published in 10 countries). Like Elizabeth Gilbert in Eat Pray Love and Paul Monette in Borrowed Time, Matousek takes the reader on an insightful, rollicking search for answers to life’s deepest questions in this landmark memoir.

Mark Matousek is an award-winning author of seven books, a blogger for Psychology Today, and a teacher and speaker on creativity and personal growth. He has written for The New Yorker, O: The Oprah Magazine, Details, Tricycle, Harpers Magazine, and The Village Voice.

BRIGHT GREEN LIES

How the Environmental Movement Lost Its Way and
What We Can Do About It

“This disturbing but very important book makes clear we must dig deeper than the normal solutions we are offered.”

—YVON CHOUINARD, FOUNDER OF
PATAGONIA WORKS

“Bright Green Lies exposes the hypocrisy and bankruptcy of leading environmental groups and their most prominent cheerleaders. The best-known environmentalists are not in the business of speaking truth, or even holding up rational solutions to blunt the impending ecocide, but instead indulge in a mendacious and self-serving delusion that provides comfort at the expense of reality. They fail to state the obvious: We cannot continue to wallow in hedonistic consumption and industrial expansion and survive as a species. The environmental debate, Derrick Jensen and his coauthors argue, has been distorted by hubris and the childish desire by those in industrialized nations to sustain the unsustainable. All debates about environmental policy need to begin with honoring and protecting, not the desires of the human species, but with the sanctity of the Earth itself. We refuse to ask the right questions because these questions expose a stark truth—we cannot continue to live as we are living. To do so is suicidal folly. ‘Tell me how you seek, and I will tell you what you are seeking,’ the German philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein said. This is the power of Bright Green Lies: It asks the questions most refuse to ask, and in that questioning, that seeking, uncovers profound truths we ignore at our peril.”—Chris Hedges, Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and author of America: The Farewell Tour

Derrick Jensen is the author of more than 25 books. He was named “the Poet Philosopher of the Ecological Movement” by Democracy Now!

Lierre Keith is the author of six books, including The Vegetarian Myth: Food, Justice, and Sustainability and Deep Green Resistance: Strategy to Save the Planet.

Animal Sutras was inspired by the Jataka Tales, an ancient collection of Indian myths and fables depicting early incarnations of the Buddha, and was written to move readers toward giving oneself for the benefit of the greater community. For Stephen Levine, “animal-people” were his greatest teachers. So, at age 70, he began collecting animal spirit stories and transcendent moments in nature from throughout his life—from the green snake who taught him to meditate as a boy to the generous hen whom predators would not harm, and many more. “Animals have a natural mindfulness,” Levine writes. “They know what they are doing. Humans, who are full of confusion and seldom wholly in touch with their mind/body, need encouragement and technique to live in the present.”

“This is a great book, written with Stephen Levine’s characteristic sumptuous brilliance.” —ANDREW HARVEY, AUTHOR OF The Hope: A Guide to Sacred Activism

“Over and over, these stories lead us to realize the primacy of kindness as the way for all of us to help each other arrive at wellbeing.” —AJAHN AMARO, AMARAVATI BUDDHIST MONASTERY

Stephen Levine was the bestselling author of many books. With his wife Andrea Levine, he counseled terminally ill people and their loved ones for more than 30 years. His renowned work in grief counseling inspired radio segments and interviews, as well as articles in magazines such as O: The Oprah Magazine, Psychology Today, and The Utne Reader. He and Andrea spent many years in the mountains of New Mexico, where Andrea still lives today.

Renowned grief counselor Stephen Levine tells us that long after an initial loss has passed and the period of grieving has ended—an unattended sorrow lingers, accounting for a host of physical, emotional, and spiritual maladies. It is not uncommon for those with unresolved grief to lean toward addictions, dangerous behaviors, or other forms of self-destruction. In Unattended Sorrow, Levine addresses the grief from fresh loss but also attends to the pain and troubles caused by the unresolved anguish, sadness, and delayed stress that can accumulate over a lifetime. He notes that we may never entirely overcome our sorrows, but we can confront them with mercy and self-acceptance to smooth the path to healing the heart.

“...All of his easy-to-follow suggestions involve extending kindness and forgiveness to the self, which, Levine says, will lead to the practice of dealing with others in the spirit of mercy and love. Although, as Levine acknowledges, the healing process is slow, opening the pain-filled heart can lead to the unfolding of a new life.”—Publishers Weekly, starred review

Enlightened Contemporaries is the first book to compare the lives and teachings of three of the world's most admired spiritual masters: Francis of Assisi, the Christian saint; Dogen, the great Zen Buddhist teacher; and Rumi, the Islamic Sufi master. They lived during the same turbulent century. They integrated mystical experiences of the sacred into their lives, and they can inspire us to do the same.

Steve Kanji Ruhl received his Master of Divinity degree from Harvard University. An ordained Zen Buddhist minister, Reverend Kanji has served as a Buddhist adviser at Yale University and is a core faculty member in the Shogaku Zen Institute.

The Book of Householder Koans is based on the premise that our everyday lives as householders contain situations rich with challenge and grit, the equivalents of old Zen masters' shouts or blows. These moments can become koan practice when they jolt us out of our usual way of thinking, closing the gap between ourselves and the situation we face. The koans in this book deal with the challenges of relationships, parenting, work, money, love, loss, old age, and death, and come from practitioners across three continents, with commentaries by two Western teachers.

"Two extraordinary Zen Teachers offer a cutting-edge immersion into the koans of our actual lives... A guaranteed American Zen Classic!" —ROSHI PAT ENKYO O'HARA

"Radical, useful, and wild, this rich collection of householder koans opens a treasure house of wisdom for all. What a wonderful adventure in the practical mind and heart of true Zen and true life." —JOAN HALIFAX, ABBOT, UPAYA ZEN CENTER

Eve Myonen Marko is resident teacher at Green River Zen Center in Leverett, Massachusetts, and also a founding teacher of the Zen Peacemaker Order. She co-founded Peacemaker Circle International with her late husband, Bernie Glassman, linking and training spiritually-based social activists and peacemakers in the United States, Europe, and the Middle East.

Wendy Egyoku Nakao has served as the Abbot of Zen Center of Los Angeles since 1999, succeeding Abbot Emeritus Roshi Bernie Glassman. Over the past 20 years, she has guided ZCLA through a powerful transformation with new models of practice and governance. She lives in residence at ZCLA with approximately thirty other Zen students.

Wounds into Wisdom is about the way people who have endured trauma—directly or through their ancestry—have transformed it into usable wisdom and moral leadership. These powerful stories—of case studies and Firestone’s own post-World War II household—demonstrate how the legacy of collective trauma can reverberate through generations.

Interweaving neuroscientific and psychological research and Jewish teachings, Firestone demonstrates seven principles for healing collective trauma, distilled from people with whom she has worked. This rich tapestry of a book promises to open a much-needed conversation.

“Wounds into Wisdom is for anyone who has suffered trauma, either directly or in a family whose generational trauma is buried. It helps readers uncover suffering and use it to help others—the final stage of healing...” —GLORIA STEINEM

“Rabbi Firestone has emerged as a moral leader who has come through the eye of her own life’s needle, and who is thus able to see a future beyond tragedy.”
—Tikkun Magazine

“This book is both a gift of wisdom and an opening of the heart.”
—RODGER KAMENETZ, The Jew in the Lotus

Tirzah Firestone, Ph.D., is a rabbi, psychotherapist, and acclaimed author based in Boulder, Colorado. She is the younger sister of the famous radical feminist writer Shulamith Firestone, and is a leader in the International Jewish Renewal Movement and the former co-chair of the North American Rabbinic Call for Human Rights.

THE MYSTERY OF DEATH

Awakening to Eternal Life

Ladislaus Boros, S.J.

Cynthia Bourgeault

What happens at the moment of death is answered in this new edition of a long-out-of-print classic.

What precisely happens at the time of death is a question that theologians have struggled over for centuries but have never answered satisfactorily. The response to this question that Ladislaus Boros gives in his monumental synthesis, The Mystery of Death, is that in death humans are able to elect for or against our own eternal salvation. In other words, death is a kind of judgment day, but it is we ourselves who pass judgment.

Ladislaus Boros, S.J. was widely acclaimed as one of the brightest rising stars in the postwar Jesuit theological firmament. He published over 15 books. His life gradually trended in a different direction. In 1973, he renounced his orders, married, and was laicized. He died in Switzerland in 1981, barely 54 years old.

Modern day mystic, Episcopal priest, writer, and internationally known retreat leader Cynthia Bourgeault is the author of several books: The Holy Trinity and the Law of Three, The Meaning of Mary Magdalene, and Love is Stronger than Death.

Hardcover/eBook available

After playing an intimate role in the mystery of the Resurrection, what is left for Maeve, the Celtic Mary Magdalen? Never a follower, will she emerge as a leader of the early Church? Will she retire quietly to mother a sacred bloodline? Will she set sail for France to proselytize and go spelunking? The answer: all and none of the above. No sooner does Maeve open her mouth to preach the Gospel her way, then a fierce debate begins about what to do with the child she is carrying. Maeve has her own ideas about where best to raise Jesus's scion. When she returns to Temple Magdalen, the holy whorehouse she founded, a custody battle of biblical proportions ensues.

"Gleefully iconoclastic. For that dwindling demographic with a sense of humor about religion, Maeve's profane skewering of the all-too-human foibles of the Church fathers is a hoot."—Kirkus Reviews

In this central novel of The Maeve Chronicles, acclaimed novelist Elizabeth Cunningham brings us a Mary Magdalen who defies all stereotypes—old and new. Passionate and unrepentant, feisty and tender, Maeve leaps off the page, a luminous, embodied archetype for our time.

LOVE IS STRONGER THAN DEATH

5.5x8.5/256 pages

This is a love-story memoir like no other. It describes the incandescent relationship between two hermits—a 70-year-old monk and a 50-year-old woman Episcopal priest and medieval scholar—who met at a Trappist monastery in Snowmass, Colorado. Both had studied Western esoteric traditions and believed it was possible for two souls to work and grow together “from here to eternity.”

This is a guide-book for those who are called to the path of conscious love. This powerful book, written by an Episcopal priest, tells of her intense relationship with Brother Raphael Robin, an elderly Trappist monk and hermit. The romantic yet platonic relationship that ensued between the 50-year-old Bourgeault and the hermit lasted five years, until his death. Both believed that a relationship can continue beyond this life, and here Bourgeault describes her search for that connection before and after Robin's death. Originally published by Crown/Harmony in 1999 (before her bestselling titles were published), this reissue features a new foreword by the author.

“A lucid, brave and significant contribution to the two questions being asked by all seekers today: What happens after death and how can human relationships help us achieve an initiation into divine human love.”—ANDREW HARVEY

“This is not an anti-monastic book. On the contrary it is ablaze with passion for the one essential task of the monk: total inner transformation.”—BROTHER DAVID STENDL-RAST

Modern-day mystic, Episcopal priest, writer, and internationally known retreat leader Cynthia Bourgeault divides her time between solitude at her seaside hermitage in Maine and a demanding schedule traveling globally to teach and spread the recovery of the Christian contemplative and Wisdom path. She is the founding director of both the Contemplative Society and the Aspen Wisdom School and the author of eight books.

learns to communicate with and direct the energy of Reiki telepathically.

His poetry books, America Needs A Woman President and America Needs A Buddhist President, both aired nationwide on National Public Radio's "All Things Considered." feeding on human life force, and steadily gaining a foothold on the planet. Now they threaten humanity's extinction. They can only be fought with one weapon: the mind, pushed to—and beyond—its limits.

When Captain Carlsen entered the vast derelict spaceship, he was shaken by the discovery of its immobilized humanoid passengers. Later, after three of the strange aliens had been transported to Earth, his foreboding was more than justified. The creatures were energy vampires whose seductive embraces were fatal, and whose lust for vitality was boundless. As they took over the willing bodies of their victims and sexual murders spread terror throughout the land, Carlsen worked toward their destruction—even while he was erotically drawn to the most beautiful vampire of all!

Colin Wilson is the author of more than 100 fiction and nonfiction books. The Outsider (1956), published at the age of 24, earned him worldwide critical acclaim. The Space Vampires, his 51st book, was translated into Spanish, Japanese, French, Dutch, and Swedish and was later adapted for screen in the movie Lifeforce, directed by Tobe Hooper (Salem's Lot, Poltergeist, The Texas Chain Saw Massacre). The movie failed however to capture the true spirit of the cult classic reprinted here by popular demand.

Owsley “Bear” Stanley met Rhoney Gissen in Berkeley in 1965, when LSD was still legal and he was the world’s largest producer and distributor. Rhoney found herself working in an LSD laboratory—and as the third corner in a love triangle. We have all heard the stories from the ’60s—but never from the point of view of a woman finding her way through twisted trails of love, jealousy, and paranoia, all the while personally connecting to the most iconic events and people of her time.

“So good ... I love your honesty. Really liked the descriptions of the mysteries and subtleties of the substance. I feel transported back, missing everybody.”

—CAROLYN (MOUNTAIN GIRL) GARCIA

“My writing partner Tom Davis was greatly excited about his last literary project: helping to edit Owsley and Me. Rightly so. A legendary figure who was central to an induplicable period in U.S. cultural history is depicted in an exciting and entertaining memoir from a true intimate insider!”

—DAN AYKROYD

Rhoney Gissen Stanley was an assistant in the underground labs where rebel chemists made the psychedelics that energized the hippie counter-culture. Today she is a practicing holistic orthodontist in Woodstock, New York. This is her first book.

Tom Davis was an Emmy Award-winning American writer and comedian. He is best known for being one of the original writers for Saturday Night Live and for his former partnership with Al Franken as half of the comedy duo “Franken & Davis.” His memoir, Thirty-Nine Years of Short-Term Memory Loss: The Early Days of SNL from Someone Who Was There, was published in 2010 by Grove Press.

“But being crucified upon the irreparable things that one has done, realizing that one has failed, that you have let yourself down and your poor silly disciples down and mankind down, that the God in you has deserted you—that was the ultimate torment. Even on the cross I remember shouting out something about it.” “Eli. Eli, lama sabachthani?” I said. “Did someone get that down?” he replied. “Don’t you read the Gospels?” “Good God, No!” he said. “How can I? I was crucified before all that.”

This volume contains the two last works by HG Wells. Nearing the end of his life, increasingly distressed over the war, Wells deals with death and apocalypse, mortality, and religion, and with “human insufficiency.”

MIND AT THE END OF ITS TETHER

“One approaches it with awe. You come across references to it everywhere: Colin Wilson, Priestly, Koestler. It seems to have been a wounding work; something no one could agree with, but something that couldn’t be taken lightly.”—ART BECK

H.G. Wells is considered by many to be the “father” of science fiction.

SOUL TO SOUL

Poems, Prayers and Stories to End a Yoga Class

Compiled and Edited by John Mundahl

£13.99 UK / $16.95 US

Paperback 978-1-939681-42-3

5x8/202 pages

Soul to Soul is a beautiful collection of 150 inspiring perfect-length readings and quotes that are just right for ending a yoga class. Honoring many spiritual traditions, it's the perfect gift for yoga teachers and practitioners, or for anyone seeking uplifting messages. The book includes writing by Swami Kripalu, Thich Nhat Hahn, Deepak Chopra, as well as selections from the Bhagavad Gita.

According to a 2012 report by Yoga Journal, in the US alone over 20 million people practice yoga annually, and that number is rising. Most yoga classes end with a period of relaxation, that is usually accompanied by a short reading of an inspirational text. Soul to Soul targets this specific need, and offers students a way to take their yoga class into their daily lives.

“The closing of a yoga class is a sacred moment. It can dissolve in an instant, if the mind darts to the busy-ness of the day ahead, the snarled traffic or the many inconveniences of modern life. If captured and held close in our heart, that moment in time can sustain us through these very annoyances that disturb our peace and disrupt our ability to stay connected to the Source.” —YOGI AMRIT DESAI, The Yoga of Relationships

John Mundahl has been a yoga teacher and practitioner for 36 years. He was a resident at the original Kripalu Yoga Ashram in Sumneytown, Pennsylvania from 1977–1981, the four years of Swami Kripalu's remarkable stay in the United States. He is the author of 12 books, including: Tales of Courage, Tales of Dreams, a collection of short stories, From the Heart of the Lotus, the Teaching Stories of Swami Kripalu, A Sunrise of Joy, the Lost Darshans of Swami Kripalu, and The Swami Kripalu Reader, Selected Works from a Yogic Master.
